2013 GIA PINOT NOIR

Gia Coppola has many different talents ranging from photographer and filmmaker to amateur bartender and wine enthusiast. Gia is known amongst her family and friends as being an expert drink maker and all-around beverage guru. Introduced to the wine industry by her grandfather, Francis Ford Coppola, Gia has been involved with the family winery for over a decade. In 2012, she was inspired to create her own line of wines, Gia by Gia Coppola. With the release of her brand, Gia hopes to share her love for light, unpretentious wines.

THE WINE

Just like the woman they were inspired by, the wines of Gia Coppola are easy going and fun to drink. Grown in the cool climate vineyards of California where Pinot Noir thrives, the excellent 2013 vintage, which boasted moderate temperatures and limited rain, rewarded us with perfectly balanced fruit to create a bright, fragrant wine. Because we want Gia Pinot Noir to be “light on its feet” we finish the wine in stainless steel rather than oak barrels. Despite having no wood contact, the wine offers beautiful spice aromas that come naturally from the varietal.

THE FLAVOR

Our 2013 Gia Pinot Noir bestows a bright ruby red color and very pure, youthful aromas of fresh-picked strawberries and raspberries. Light in character with a lively show of natural acidity and gentle sweetness, bright flavors of red cherries and plum mingle with fragrant spice notes. The wine’s silky palate and fine well-melted tannins create a supple, food-friendly wine that pairs well with anything from Peking duck to mushroom risotto and a variety of hors d’oeuvres.
